COVID-19 Six Nations Small Business Relief Fund Launched

Six Nations of the Grand River is taking action to ensure that member business owners have access to relief fund support to recover from the COVID-19 pandemic.

The Six Nations of the Grand River Small Business Relief Fund launches this week as part of the community’s ongoing efforts to minimize the impacts of the virus. Eligible small business owners can apply for up to $5,000 to offset the sacrifices they have made for the health and safety of their community.

“Our small business owners have been leaders and role models in Six Nation’s fight against the COVID-19 virus, ceasing their operations and putting their livelihoods on hold without question. This is one of the ways we will be honouring those sacrifices,” says SNGR Chief Mark Hill.

Businesses located on Six Nations Territory and owned by its members are eligible to receive the emergency relief funding. Eligible businesses must have been operating full-time prior to March 1, 2020. Priority will be given to small businesses that have been unable to access other emergency support programs funded by the Government of Canada.

Applications for the Six Nations Small Business Relief Fund are located under the Safety, Care, and Prevention section of sixnationscovid19.ca website.
