LAND RIGHTS
A GLOBAL SOLUTION
for the Six Nations of the Grand River

"Six Miles deep from each side of the River beginning at Lake Erie and extending in the proportion to the Head of said River, which Them and Their Posterity are to enjoy forever."

Haldimand Treaty, October 25, 1784
SUMMARY - SIX NATIONS LAND RIGHTS ISSUES - FEBRUARY 2015

- Six Nations of the Grand River is the largest First Nation community in Canada with some 24,000 citizens living on approximately 46,000 acres in Southern Ontario. Less than 5% is all that remains from our original 950,000 acre land grant from our 1784 Haldimand Treaty.
- We returned to Canada and settled along the Grand River as a result of our 1784 Haldimand Treaty with the British Crown in recognition of our role as allies during the American Revolution. We were again called upon to defend Upper Canada when Americans invaded during the War of 1812.
- Our title to this land is an area 6 miles wide on each side of the Grand River for a distance of 186 miles (2,232 square miles), which we call Six Nations of the Grand River Territory. The unresolved land rights throughout our Territory impedes the governance of 38 municipalities and 900,000 persons within the Grand River watershed.
- Our 1701 Fort Albany (Nanfan) Treaty with the Crown also recognized our rights to the natural resources and trading rights throughout a large area of land in southern and central Ontario. Other International treaties affirms Six Nations these rights.
- Six Nations of the Grand River is seeking Justice. We have pre-confederation treaties with the Crown that have not been lived up to. Six Nations land rights are based on those treaties, which are recognized and protected by Canada’s Constitution.
- Under the 1784 Haldimand Treaty… the Six Nations and their posterity to enjoy forever… and in the modern context the Spirit and Intent of this Treaty is our “perpetual care and maintenance” of the Six Nations people now and to the seventh generation. We can not, and will not negotiate away our constitutionally recognized treaty rights.
- Within the original land grant along the Grand River, Six Nations entered into long term leases to provide income for our perpetual care and maintenance. There were very few outright legal sales of our land. 90% of the leased land has never been paid for or paid to Six Nations.
- Six Nations was engaged in land rights negotiations for the return of substantial parts of our original grant. This process has broken down and no progress has been made for the past eight years the resolution of Six Nations land rights in the 1784 Haldimand Treaty Lands.
- The Specific Claims Tribunal Act, which was passed in 2008 does not deal with claims over $150 million. A process to deal with large claims was promised but withdrawn by the federal government.
- The “extinguishment” requirement in the current federal approach, “to achieve certainty,” does not allow us to continue to enjoy the same forever, as provided in the Treaty and is therefore unacceptable. We reiterate that we can not and will not sign away our children’s future.
- We know and understand that Canada does not have enough money (Billions) to bring these historic land issues to resolution under the existing land claims policies. However, a continual yearly flow of financial transfers to the Six Nations, based on the spirit and intent of the 1784 Haldimand Treaty will allow the community to enjoy these benefits i.e. health, education, social well being, housing etc.
- A new perpetual care and maintenance mechanism needs to be established that allows us to share the economic privileges of our lands and resources with our neighbours and which allows for certainty on all sides. There is no need for the prerequisite of extinguishment to achieve certainty.
- Joint venturing and partnering with developers, municipalities, Ontario and Canada will allow us to share in the benefits of the 1784 Haldimand Treaty lands. We have an alternative “global approach” to a settlement of our land rights issues, which we need the federal government to sign on to.
- Six Nations is seeking fair and just settlement including return of lands and compensation for loss of use of our lands and resources including resource revenue sharing for lands within the original treaty lands – Treaty Land Entitlement.
- Six Nations is seeking a special House of Commons or Senate study on the Large Specific Claims process and in particular using Six Nations as a test case to review why there has been no federal Large Claim process produced and the reasons for the failure of current federal approach to large claims.
- Six Nations has and will continue to petition and present to the United Nations (UN) the need for the UN to intervene in their Land Rights issues with Canada.
PURPOSE

Six Nations of the Grand River understands that Canada does not have enough money to bring historic land issues to resolution under the existing land claims policies.

This booklet is an explanation of Six Nations’ land and financial grievances against the Crowns of Canada and Ontario and the need for the establishment of a new perpetual care and maintenance mechanism. A mechanism that would benefit the Six Nations Peoples and their posterity to enjoy forever, while continuing to share the Haldimand Tract lands and resources with our neighbours.

THE BIG PICTURE

In 1983, the Six Nations Elected Council appeared before the Parliamentary Task Force on Indian Self-Government. We then stated self-determination, Indian Government, and special relationships are empty words unless there are the resources to make them real. The resources of which we speak are those to which we are legally entitled. Revenue sharing and resolving our land rights issues are major components for us to perpetually resource our government.

In 1996, a Royal Commission on Aboriginal Peoples reported to the Federal Government and proposed solutions for a new and better relationship between Aboriginal peoples and the Canadian Government including the recognition of the right to Self-Government. The Royal Commission recognized the inherent right to Self-Government as an “existing” Aboriginal and treaty right as recognized and affirmed by Section 35(1) of Canada’s Constitution Act, 1982.

The Federal Government has since recognized the right of self-government as an existing inherent Aboriginal and treaty right within 35(1)of Canada’s Constitution Act, 1982.

THE 1701 FORT ALBANY (NANFAN) TREATY AND TRADITIONAL LANDS

In 1701, the Imperial Crown entered into treaty with Five Nations (later became the Six Nations) in which the Crown undertook to protect from disturbance or interference a large portion of lands the Six Nations had obtained from the Huron by conquest. This Treaty would ensure Six Nations’ right to exercise freely the right to pursue their economic livelihood utilizing the natural resources contained in the said Treaty Lands throughout central and southwestern Ontario.

These rights to unmolested trade and commerce throughout the region was again affirmed the Five Nations in the Treaty of Utrecht.

Our Treaty Rights as affirmed by the 1701 Fort Albany Treaty are protected under Section 35(1) of Canada’s Constitution Act, 1982 and as such are subject to the Crowns’ (Canada and Ontario) duty to consult and accommodate our broad range of interests. In addition to our undisturbed right to hunting and fishing, that consultation and accommodation includes Six Nations participation in environmental monitoring and revenue sharing by others intending to develop on and exploit any resources from within our 1701 Fort Albany Treaty lands.
The Haldimand Treaty of October 25, 1784, promised a tract consisting of approximately 950,000 acres within their Beaver Hunting Grounds along the Grand River to the “Mohawk Nation and such others of the Six Nations Indians as wish to settle in that Quarter” in appreciation of their allegiance to the King and for the loss of their settlements in the American States. They were “to take possession of and settle upon the Banks of the River, commonly called Ouse or Grand River, running into Lake Erie, allotting to them for that purpose Six Miles deep from each side of the River beginning at Lake Erie and extending in that proportion to the Head of said River, which Them and Their Posterity are to enjoy forever”.

From 1784 to the present date, 275,000 acres of lands up to the source of the Grand River remains an outstanding treaty land entitlement to the Six Nations people. In addition, compensation for the 230-year loss of use and enjoyment of these lands require redress.

The 1784 Haldimand Treaty unequivocally promised that a tract of land six miles deep on each side of the Grand River from the rivers mouth to its source was to be laid out for Six Nations and their posterity to enjoy forever. However, the Six Nations Tract as laid out is only 960 chains (12 miles) in total width with the area of the Grand River meandering between its outer limits. The area equal to the area of the Grand River remains an outstanding treaty land entitlement to the Six Nations people.
On February 26, 1787 the Six Nations agreed to allow farms to be used by certain individuals in parts of Seneca and Cayuga Townships and never to be transferred to any other whomsoever. Between 1835 and 1852, twenty-one Crown Letters Patent were issued to third parties without the lands being duly surrendered or any compensation being paid.

In 1796, Six Nations agreed to share 302,907 acres (Blocks 1, 2, 3 and 4) with settlers on condition that a continual revenue stream be derived from these lands for 999 years to be dedicated for Six Nations “perpetual care and maintenance”. Records show the Crown used those revenues to finance operations in developing Canada with little or no return to Six Nations. For those agreements to be honoured, Canada must restore with interest the monies it used for purposes other than Six Nations perpetual use and benefit for the past 218 years. We must also define the terms by which Six Nations will continue to allow persons to share these lands for the next 781 years.

Two other tracts of land, Block 5 (30,800 acres) and Block 6 (19,000 acres) must either be returned to Six Nations and compensation commensurate to our loss of use or perpetual care and maintenance agreements need to be honoured similar to satisfactory arrangements for Blocks 1-4. In June 2007, Canada concludes lands in Etobicoke were used to secure the block 5 mortgage.

By Statute of January 19, 1824, the Welland Canal Company was incorporated to construct the Welland Canal. The Statute provided that Six Nations was to be compensated if any part of the Welland Canal passed through Six Nations lands or damaged the property or possessions of Six Nations. It was determined that 2,500 acres of Six Nations lands were flooded between 1829 and 1830 with no compensation being paid for the flooded lands to date. Government records also reveal that Six Nations funds were used to finance operations of the Welland Canal Company. Canada has acknowledged all this as fact.

William Claus was Deputy Superintendent for Six Nations at Fort George from October 1796 to September 30, 1800. He then was appointed Deputy Superintendent General for Indian Affairs for Upper Canada a post that he held until his death on November 11, 1826. His son John Claus was then appointed a Trustee for Six Nations by the Lieutenant Governor. On May 14, 1830, the Executive Council of Upper Canada determined a debt of about £5,000 was owed Six Nations from the Claus Estate. In 1831, 900 acres in Innisfil Township and 4,000 acres in East Hawkesbury Township were set aside for the use and benefit of Six Nations to satisfy the debt of the Claus estate. The heirs of William Claus fought against this settlement by the Crown. The Crown used Six Nations funds to pay for its endeavours to obtain a settlement with the Claus heirs; legal fees, court costs, land taxes and a cash settlement. In addition, Six Nations unfettered use of these lands has been outstanding since 1831.

The purported land alienations of the Town Plot of Brantford (April 19, 1830) and part of the Township of Brantford (April 2, 1835) to resolve the problem of squatters on Six Nations lands are deemed by Six Nations as void as their purpose was never fulfilled. Failure to have the alienations deemed as invalid will result in a lot-by-lot analysis having to be done to determine if full and fair compensation was paid for each transaction and held in trust for the continued use and benefit of the Six Nations Indians. On February 25, 2009, Canada agreed with Six Nations that the 20 acres of the Nathan Gage Lands within the Town Plot of Brantford, were intended for leasing purposes and have never been paid for.

By agreement on September 28, 1831, Six Nations would consent to a land transaction to allow for the construction of the Talbot Road from Canborough Township to Rainham Township (North Cayuga Township) upon condition an Indian Reservation would be made for Six Nations of two miles back on each side of the Grand River where the Talbot Road would cross the Grand River. The terms of this condition was not honoured in the purported surrender for the area.

By Statute of January 28, 1832, the Grand River Navigation Company was incorporated to make the Grand River more navigable from the works of the Welland Canal to Brantford. Between March 10, 1834 and 1847 recorded transfers show more than £44,292 ($177,168.00) was taken from Six Nations Trust Funds by Crown Agents and invested in the Grand River Navigation Company through stock purchases; contrary to protests of Six Nations. An additional amount yet to be determined was collected from the Government controlled sale of Six Nations lands and used to pay the day-to-day operating and maintenance expenses of the Grand River Navigation Company without being deposited into the Six Nations Trust. In addition, free Crown Grants were issued to the Grand River Navigation Company for 368 7/10 acres in 1837 as well as for lands elsewhere and at various periods of time.

Against the wishes of Six Nations, the Crown constructed the Hamilton/Port Dover Plank Road through the Townships of Seneca and Oneida. A leasing arrangement for one half mile on each side of the road was sanctioned by the Chiefs in 1835. Lease rentals remain in arrears since 1835 for the leasing of 7,680 acres crossing these townships. In addition, payment for the Hamilton/Port Dover Plank Road remain in arrears since March 1834.

To further augment a continual source of revenue for Six Nations, agreements were confirmed and ratified by the Crown in 1843 that 11,500 acres in four separate locations in and around the City of Brantford would be let at short term leases renewable every 21 years. Six Nations does not receive rental monies from these lands nor have we enjoyed the unfettered use of these lands.

Samuel P. Jarvis, the Chief Superintendent of Indian Affairs, again attempted to address the issue of squatters throughout our lands and the failure by the Crown to legally protect our interests by land relocation. All lands on the south side of the Grand River (Burtch Tract, Tuscarora Township, Oneida Township, and parts of North and South Cayuga Townships) from Brantford Township to Dunn Township were assured to Six Nations for their future residence. Six Nations unfettered use of all these lands remains outstanding. The said lands need to be restored. to us in addition to our present day land holdings in Onondaga, Tuscarora and Oneida Townships. Failing that, the entire Townships of Onondaga and Seneca need to be restored to Six Nations as the conditions of the promises made for the relocation of our people was not adhered with.

Thousands of acres of Six Nations land leases have expired with no compensation being collected. Financial compensation and/or the return of these lands to Six Nations must be acted on.

Thousands of acres of Six Nations lands legislated away, expropriated, flooded and used by the Crown require to be returned, replacement lands provided, or satisfactory compensation made to Six Nations.

Lands that have been excluded from purported surrenders, lands that have no payments being made and lands that have “free” Crown Letters Patents issued need to be returned to Six Nations or alternative forms of just compensation made.

Compensation for all natural resources on lands throughout the Six Nations 1784 Haldimand Treaty and the 1701 Fort Albany lands must be addressed to Six Nations satisfaction.

PURPORTED LAND ALIENATIONS

A complete determination on the validity of all purported surrenders must be made:

- Did all 50 Chiefs of the day understand the written and spoken English language;
- Did all 50 Chiefs willingly consent and actually sign the purported surrender documents at a public council;
- Were the required descriptive plans attached to the purported surrender document;
- Were all the terms and conditions fulfilled (including inducing promises) of surrenders determined valid;
- Was full, fair, and complete compensation properly obtained and used for the sole use and benefit of the Six Nations Indians;
- Was complete and just compensation received for all the natural resources upon and under the lands at issue; and
- Were protests made against such arbitrary actions of the Crown properly resolved to Six Nations understanding and satisfaction.

More than 10,000 land transactions on a lot-by-lot basis will have to be analyzed to determine whether complete and just compensation was received for lawfully surrendered lands and all natural resources and whether all the proceeds were properly credited and used for Six Nations continual care and benefit.

SIX NATIONS MONIES

Our research has revealed that the Crown’s management of the Six Nations Trust or permitting it to be managed was inconsistent with the standards of conduct required by the Crown’s fiduciary obligations to the Six Nations.

Six Nations funds intended for Six Nations perpetual care and maintenance were invested in financial institutions in London, England and Scotland without an accounting. Banks here in York, Gore and elsewhere held Six Nations monies without an accounting to Six Nations. Crown appointed Indian Agents were dismissed for negligence and theft of Six Nations funds without the trust being made whole. Government inquiries reveal that funds intended to be paid remain outstanding and/or are missing from the Six Nations Trust.

A complete analysis and audit of all Six Nations Trust funds is required to determine if all funds from proper land sales were for full and fair compensation and were properly used for the continual care and benefit of the Six Nations Indians.
EXAMPLES OF THE CROWNS MISUSE OF SIX NATIONS TRUST MONIES

In 1820, £187.10.0 ($750.00) of Six Nations monies was invested in Upper Canada Bank Stock. This was increased in 1859 to £200 ($800.00).

With these examples of Six Nations funds being misappropriated are legal debts against the treasury of Canada until resolved and the compounding cost of further delaying settlements makes Canada’s one time payment policy unattainable. So why does Canada continue to mask negotiations using a redundant settlement and extinguishment policy knowing that it will not work?

LITIGATION DRIVEN BY DESPERATION

It was evident that through twenty years of research, Six Nations was merely stockpiling validated “Land Claims” under Canada’s Specific Claims Policy. Canada’s arbitrary and undefined discount factors were unacceptable not only to the Six Nations Elected Council (SNEC) but to many First Nations across Canada. The most offensive term was the prerequisite for extinguishment of our children’s rights to the lands at issue.

Enough was enough. The Six Nations of the Grand River as represented by the SNEC filed a Statement of Claim on March 7, 1995 against Canada and Ontario (Court File 406/95) regarding the Crowns’ handling of Six Nations’ property before and after Confederation. Six Nations is seeking from the Crown a comprehensive general accounting for all money, all property under the 1784 Haldimand Treaty and for other assets belonging to the Six Nations and the manner in which the Crown managed or disposed of such assets. Six Nations is further seeking an order that the Crown must replace all assets or value thereof, which ought to have been received or held by the Crown, plus compound interest on all sums, which the Crown should have received but failed to receive or hold for the benefit of the Six Nations.

In 2004, the SNEC of the day placed this litigation in abeyance with hopes that exploratory discussions with Canada would prove successful. Those discussions have gone nowhere. Consequently, on April 27, 2009, the SNEC gave notice to Canada and Ontario that the 1995 litigation would be taken out of abeyance as of August 4, 2009.

THE LEGAL DUTY TO CONSULT AND ACCOMMODATE SIX NATIONS

The legal duty for the Crown to consult with First Nations arises from the protection of Aboriginal and treaty rights set out in Section 35(1) of the Constitution Act, 1982. The purpose of such protection has been interpreted by the Supreme Court of Canada as “the reconciliation of the pre-existence of Aboriginal societies with the sovereignty of the Crown”. Accordingly, the duty to consult is an aspect of the reconciliation process, which flows from the historical relationship between the Crown and Aboriginal people and is “grounded in the honour of the Crown”.

The duty “arises when the Crown has knowledge, real or constructive, of the potential existence of the Aboriginal right or title and contemplates conduct that might adversely affect it”. The Crown’s duty to consult is proportionate to the strength of the Aboriginal claim that has been asserted; it is not a duty to agree, nor does it give First Nations... a right to veto, but rather requires “good faith on both sides” and requires the Crown to make a bona fide commitment to the principle of reconciliation over litigation.

The Supreme Court of Canada recently ruled on the duty to consult in two important decisions. In the case of Tsilhqot’in Nations v. British Columbia released in June, 2014, the Court held that the Tsilhqot’in people had proven their aboriginal title claim to a large territory in the Cariboo Chilcotin region in the interior of British Columbia. As a result, the Tsilhqot’in Nation had the exclusive right to determine how the land is used and the right to benefit from those uses. This means that governments and others seeking to use the land, must obtain the consent of the aboriginal title holders, in this case the Tsilhqot’in people. If the group does not consent, the government must establish that the proposed incursion is justified under Section 35(1) of the Constitution Act, 1982. The justification will prove difficult for the government to meet.

The other important decision from the Supreme Court of Canada is the Grassy Narrows First Nation v. Ontario (also known as the Keewatin case) which was released in July, 2014. This case involved the duty to consult when there is an existing treaty. In this situation, the right to an accommodation was limited to the terms of the treaty.

Both cases reinforce and confirm the principles of consultation and accommodation, which principles Six Nations maintains applies to the Haldimand Treaty lands “which Them and Their Posterity are to Enjoy Forever” and the Nanfan Treaty area, the scope of which will be determined in upcoming years.

The Crowns are fully aware of Six Nations interests throughout the Six Nations treaty lands and as a result the SNEC has established a Consultation and Accommodation policy for obtaining free, prior, and informed consent from Six Nations. SNEC requires that the Crown, all proponents, and municipalities consult with SNEC in good faith in order to obtain its free and informed consent on behalf of the Six Nations of the Grand River prior to SNEC approval of any project potentially affecting Six Nations’ rights and interest. SNEC expects that effective mechanisms shall be provided by the Crown and/or proponents for just and fair redress for any significant development activities. SNEC supports development that benefits the people of Six Nations and is conducted in a manner that is cognizant and respectful of the water, air, land rights, and interests of the people of Six Nations. SNEC fully expects all proponents, municipalities, and the Crown to respect this policy.

On August 27, 2008, SNEC commenced legal proceedings (Court File No. CV-08-361454) seeking a declaration against the Corporation of the City of Brantford and the Crown in Right of Ontario. As a result of the Province’s delegated statutory authority, it has a constitutional duty to engage in meaningful good faith consultation with the Six Nations of the Grand River. Including, where appropriate, to negotiate satisfactory interim accommodation before considering or undertaking any material exercise or purported exercise of any statutory powers of decision by Brantford, the Province, or any of their delegates, which potentially affect the bona fide interests of the Six Nations of the Grand River. This matter continues to be before the courts.

In the meantime, risk-taking development continues on lands where Six Nations rights and interests are unresolved with little or no meaningful consultation and accommodation taking place. Land Protectors from Six Nations continue to stop development throughout the Haldimand Tract pressing for justice and continue to be arrested for their actions.

GLOBAL SOLUTIONS CONSULTATION

The Six Nations Elected Council (SNEC), as the official governing body of the territory, on behalf of the peoples of the Six Nations of the Grand River (SNGR), has a duty to protect land, air, water and our Aboriginal economic base within the Haldimand Tract and the wider area specified by the 1701 Fort Albany/Nanfan Treaty. The Crown has failed in their fiduciary duty to SNGR which has resulted in land disputes that harms businesses, resources and hinders economic opportunities. This has caused frustration for developers, municipalities, communities, as well as the people of the SNGR.
The SNEC, in accordance with Canadian and International laws, requires that The Crown, proponents and municipalities consult in good faith with SNEC, acting in a fiduciary capacity on behalf of SNGR, in order to obtain the free, prior and informed consent of SNGR prior to commencing any project that may potentially affect SNGR’s rights or interests. These potential projects/developments are taken through the following matrix to obtain the “Free, Prior and Informed” consent of the SNGR Peoples:

THE UNITED NATIONS DUTY TO CONSULT AND ACCOMMODATE

On September 13, 2007, the United Nations General Assembly adopted the United Nations Declaration on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples. This followed more than twenty years of discussions with Indigenous representatives and Countries within the UN system.

The relevant articles of Convention 169 on the duty to consult with Indigenous Peoples are:

Article 26

1. Indigenous peoples have the right to the lands, territories, and resource which they have traditionally owned, occupied or otherwise used or acquired.
2. Indigenous peoples have the right to own, use, develop and control the lands, territories and resources that they possess by reason of traditional occupation or use, as well as those which they have otherwise acquired.
3. States shall give legal recognition and protection to these lands, territories and resources. Such recognition shall be conducted with due respect to the customs, traditions and land tenure systems of the indigenous peoples concerned.
LAND RIGHTS
A GLOBAL SOLUTION FOR THE SIX NATIONS OF THE GRAND RIVER
Article 27
States shall establish and implement, in conjunction with indigenous peoples concerned, a fair, independent, impartial, open and transparent process, giving due recognition to indigenous people’s laws, traditions, customs and land tenure systems, to recognize and adjudicate the rights of indigenous peoples pertaining to their lands, territories and resources, including those which were traditionally owned or otherwise occupied or used. Indigenous peoples shall have the right to participate in this process.

Article 32
1. Indigenous peoples have the right to determine and develop priorities and strategies for the development or use of their lands or territories and other resources.
2. States shall consult and cooperate in good faith with the indigenous peoples concerned through their own representative institutions in order to obtain their free and informed consent prior to approval of any project affecting their lands or territories and other resources, particularly in connection with the development, utilization or exploitation of mineral, water or other resources.

States shall provide effective mechanisms for just and fair redress for any such activities, and appropriate measures shall be taken to mitigate adverse environmental, economic, social, cultural or spiritual impact.

SIX NATIONS AND THE UNITED NATIONS

During the last five years, the Six Nations Elected Council (SNEC) has been actively educating people associated at the United Nations (UN) through the Permanent Forum on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples to the policies and practices of Canada subverting just resolution for Six Nations’ Land Rights. SNEC representatives have hosted three side events at the UN explaining their Land Rights issues with recommendations for resolution and seeking UN intervention. SNEC representatives participated and presented in numerous North American Indigenous Peoples’ Caucus sessions and the Indigenous Voices at the UN again telling their Land Rights story. In January, 2012, SNEC presented a Shadow Report Committee on the Elimination of all Forms of Racial Discrimination (CERD) responding to Canada’s 19th and 20th Reports to the CERD of the UN with correcting information. In Ottawa on October 14, 2013, as a part of the IROQUOIS CAUCUS, Chief Ava Hill presented Six Nations’ Land Rights and other concerns to UNITED NATIONS SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR JAMES ANAYA.

In May 2014, Chief Ava Hill formally presented to the Thirteenth Session of the Permanent Forum on Indigenous Issues highlighting the following recommendations:

In upholding the United Nations Declaration on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples, Six Nations of The Grand River once again calls upon the United Nations to:

A. Call upon Canada to support land, resource and revenue sharing agreements with the Six Nations of The Grand River throughout their Treaty Lands to establish a self-sustaining, adequate, stable economy with the necessary land base sufficient to achieve and practice our Inherent Right to Self-Government as promised in Canada’s Constitution.
B. Call upon Canada to immediately abandon existing policies such as its Comprehensive and Specific Claims policies which extinguish or have the effect of extinguishing their children’s rights to lands, territories and resources. Canada must enter into and honour long term Treaty Relationships with the Six Nations of the Grand River in addressing their Land Rights issues.

C. Call upon Canada to require Six Nations of the Grand River’s Free Prior and Informed Consent prior to passing any legislation affecting the lives and well being of the Six Nations Peoples and require their Free Prior and Informed Consent prior to any developments taking place within their Treaty Territories.

D. Call upon Canada in conjunction with Six Nations of the Grand River to create truly neutral dispute resolution tribunals to resolve legal disagreements relating to their Land Rights. Such a tribunal would have the authority to make binding decisions on the validity of issues, compensation criteria and innovative means for resolving issues. Progress on negotiations shall report to the United Nations and to the Parliament of Canada through a special joint Six Nations/Parliamentary Committee.

ONTARIO’S ROLE

in February 1991, Elected Chief William K. Montour appeared before the Standing Committee on Aboriginal Affairs in hearings on the Oka Crisis and stated our position concerning Ontario’s participation:

“With the Provincial Government’s tax and land base, and populace having benefited most from these transactions, Provinces must be more active in claims resolutions. The “Ontario Supports Native Land Claims Settlements in Ontario as long as the Federal Government pays” attitude contributes nothing to the process.”

The Province of Ontario adamantly states its position of standing behind their land registry system to protect the land interests of the Ontario Populace. We understand that position albeit in many cases we know that title has evolved from the “proceeds of crime”.

And all the while Six Nations Land Rights remain unresolved the Crown in Right of Ontario and municipalities profit at not having justice served to the Six Nations Peoples via the following examples:

Monies collected by Municipalities Entirely within the Haldimand Tract

2006 population of municipalities:
659,076 (2006 Statistics Canada)

Property taxes (including grants in lieu) of municipalities entirely within Tract:
$526,045,536.00

Estimates of Provincial Revenues within Haldimand Tract

1. Land Transfer Tax ..................................................$ 68,000,000.00
2. Gasoline Tax ..............................................................$118,000,000.00
3. Fuel Tax .................................................................$ 36,000,000.00
4. Retail Sales tax ..........................................................$848,000,000.00
5. Tobacco Tax ..............................................................$ 56,000,000.00

Estimated Total ..............................................................$1,126,000,000.00

The estimates for provincial personal and corporate income taxes are $1.225 billion, and $848 million respectively.
The total estimated annual return to municipalities and provincial coffers is $3,725,045,536.00 from the Haldimand Tract lands where Six Nations interests remain outstanding.

Six Nations must also remind Ontario that our interest in these outstanding lands and resources do not transfer free and clear to Ontario.

Section 109 of the BNA Act, 1867

“All Lands, Mines, Minerals, and Royalties belonging to the several Provinces of Canada … at the Union shall belong to the several Provinces… subject to any Trusts existing in respect thereof, and to any Interest other than that of the Province in the same”.

Therefore, prior to any permits being issued or authorization for any natural resource developments to occur, Ontario must first obtain Six Nations’ free, prior and informed consent with a Just and Fair mechanism for fair accommodation and just redress as sanctioned by Canada in Section 32(3) of the United Nations Declaration on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples.

INDIAN COMMISSION OF ONTARIO

In 1978, the Indian Commission of Ontario was created by the Governments of Canada and Ontario and the First Nations Chiefs within Ontario. It was an independent neutral authority to assist all parties to negotiate solutions to issues of concern. One of the key elements of this commission was successfully addressing and settling land claims issues where Canada, Ontario and one or more First Nations shared an interest.

Due to petty and political differences between Canada and Ontario, the Order’s in Council required to continue the Indian Commission of Ontario after March 31, 2000 were not renewed and the Indian Commission of Ontario was dissolved.

1986 LANDS AGREEMENT

The 1986 Indian Lands Agreement Legislation was created through the facilitation of the Indian Claims Commission of Ontario. The 1986 Indian Lands Agreement was and is still a valuable piece of legislation that can be used today to put in place agreements required to achieve a “global settlement” with Six Nations.

THE BLOCK 5 EXPERIENCE

In October, 1984, the Six Nations Elected Council (SNEC) had prepared and submitted their Land Rights issue as to the 999 year mortgage on 30,800 acres referenced as Block 5, being the majority of Moulton Township in Haldimand County. Canada concurred with Six Nations’ findings that the mortgage payments had been in arrears since February, 1853 and validated this outstanding liability against the Crown on November 19, 1993. On January 17, 1994, Canada made a “take it or leave it” offer to the SNEC to settle a 141 year debt for $113.64 per acre, disallowing any ongoing payments that would honour the remaining mortgage and require that we extinguish our Six Nations children’s future rights to the lands. SNEC concluded that Canada’s Specific Claims Policy is a failure and no justice for Six Nations can be achieved by adhering to that policy. The decision to commence litigation against Canada and Ontario the following year (1995) was determined.
THE WELLAND CANAL EXPERIENCE

- If Six Nations had agreed to allow their lands to be flooded by the works of the Welland Canal;
- If Six Nations had received full and fair compensation for the 2,500 acres;
- If the full and fair compensation was deposited to the Six Nations Trust Account for the sole use and benefit of the Six Nations of the Grand River;
- If the Crown managed the financial assets from the Welland Canal flooding in a manner consistent with standards of conduct required by the Crown’s fiduciary obligations to Six Nations and to the satisfaction of Six Nations;
- If the Crown can account to Six Nations where the assets from this investment are today; and
- If all of these things happened (which the Crown failed to do), the flooding of 2,500 acres of Six Nations lands by the Welland Canal Company would not be an issue today.

The “what ifs” aside, the Welland Canal flooding of 2,500 acres of Six Nations lands is a legal liability against the Crown. Bringing this issue forward 182 years later for Six Nations to receive true justice without arbitrary discount factors, etc., independent experts verified an amount of $1.2 billion; a sum we all know Canada and Ontario cannot afford. Being restricted by a one time extinguishment cash out settlement offer make this less appealing for us and insurmountable for Crown negotiators. So why continue down this path when we all know the Welland Canal flooding was deemed by Canada as one of their easier breaches to redress? For the above reasons we cannot.

THE GLOBAL APPROACH

Over the past eight years, basic issues remain unsolved and frustration is growing in the Six Nations community and our neighbouring municipalities.

While government communications state that respectful negotiations and just solutions are roads to settlements, the Crowns only apparent mandate is to keep the situation calm and keep hope alive.

With no foreseeable breakthrough in the future and with more claims being validated, the Six Nations of the Grand River will take initiatives to put some strong new proposals before Canada and Ontario.

SNEC proposes that:

- Until claims are resolved between Six Nations and Canada, partnerships and resource sharing agreements with corporations, interest groups and Ontario must be utilized as an interim measure;
- Increased Six Nations Land Base;
- Entitlements promised in the 1784 Haldimand Treaty be honoured;
- Conditions by which Six Nations agreed to share the use of our land be honoured;
- Inclusion of Six Nations in the sharing of resources and economic partnering within our traditional lands;
- Agreements securing Six Nations perpetual care and maintenance to our standard commensurate with Six Nations ongoing needs must be protected by Section 35 of Canada’s Constitution; and
- With 950,000 acres at issue and tens of thousands of land and financial transactions requiring redress, a much more efficient resolution process is required. A process that will require a global approach if justice is going to be properly served.

The premise for this to work would require:

- The removal of Canada’s underlying conflict of interest through a truly independent mechanism, which would report directly to Parliament;
- Mediators to ensure good faith negotiations by providing appropriate mechanisms for dispute resolution; and Establishment of a neutral tribunal to resolve legal disputes if negotiations have reached an impasse. The neutral tribunal will have the authority to make binding decisions on the validity of grievances, compensation criteria and innovative means of resolving outstanding grievances.

GLOBAL SOLUTION AVOCADING (LOBBYING)

It is apparent from Six Nations’ experiences with Canada’s “Specific and Comprehensive Land Claims Policies” that true justice for the First Nations Peoples in addressing their Land Rights is a myth merely exploiting First Nations poverty, limiting amounts in settlements and extinguishment of Treaty Rights.

In 2009, the Six Nations Elected Council (SNEC) petitioned the Prime Minister’s Office and all opposition party members, seeking a forum for truly just solutions to avoid confrontations as witnessed in the Caledonia reclamation. These efforts included educating the Members of Parliament as to Six Nations’ Global Solutions Principles as presented to their community. On October 4, 2010, Member of Parliament Todd Russell tabled a motion before the Standing Committee on Aboriginal and Northern Development for a study as to the Specific Claims Tribunal Act and its restricting settlements to under $150 million. In particular, how are the Six Nations of the Grand River Claims going to be fairly dealt with?

SNEC was prepared and confirmed to appear before the Standing Committee on Aboriginal Affairs and Northern Development on April 7, 2011 to explain their dilemma with Canada’s Claims Policies. Unfortunately on March 25, 2011, the Harper Government faced a non confidence vote and Parliament was dissolved. SNEC efforts to seek a just resolution for the community’s Land Rights issues have continued but without success while facing the arrogance of the majority Harper Government.

In a precedent setting effort, SNEC once again lobbied Members of Parliament from all parties on December 11, 2012 to seek support for justice in resolving their Land Rights issues. This time we were accompanied by members of the Brant County and the City of Brantford Councils who gave testimony as to the urgent need for resolution to Six Nations Land Rights issues. It took more than 13 months for Canada (Indian Affairs) to respond to these efforts by rejecting Six Nations’ proposed “Global Solution” and until the SNEC has a clear mandate from their community.

Six Nations Elected Council will continue to seek justice for the Six Nations Community.

OTHER FISCAL ARRANGEMENTS

In 1983, Six Nations proposed for the financial stability of our Government new fiscal arrangements needed to be established, such as:

- Income tax now paid by our citizens should be earmarked for our Haudenosaunee Six Nations Government. The same would hold true for Native owned businesses in our territory presently paying taxes to Canada and/or Ontario. These funds need to be earmarked for our Government;
- A return to us of all Provincial GST/PST (HST) paid by our membership or better guaranteeing our exemption;
- A percentage of the General Resource Development;
- A percentage of the Gross National Product; and
- A percentage of funds currently supporting Indian and Northern Affairs Canada.

Six Nations is further proposing that a sustainable guaranteed share of the resources within the Haldimand Tract and 1701 Lands also be a part of our Governments’ economic stability with Section 35 (1) of Canada’s Constitution guarantee and protection.

It is proposed that an analysis be undertaken to determine and identify:

- All licenses, permits, fees, fines, leases, and other government’s revenue;
• Municipal Property Tax Revenues and Municipal Grants in Lieu of Taxes;
• All Development Charges (Residential and non-Residential);
• Taxes - Personal Income, Federal and Provincial Retail Sales, Corporations, Employer Health, Gasoline, Land Transfer, Tobacco, Fuel and other taxes;
• Ontario Health Premiums;
• Electricity Payments;
• Stumpage Fees;
• Border Crossing Rights;
• Mining and gravel royalty fees; and
• Federal and Provincial Transfer Payments and Grants.

Other Government infrastructures in the Haldimand Tract requiring analysis:
• All provincial and municipal roads and highways;
• Railway rights of way, Oil and gas line rights of way, Telephone and cable line rights of way;
• Hydro and distribution line rights of way and hydro stations;
• Water pipelines and water management works;
• Sewage pipelines and sewage management works;
• Land fill sites;
• Parks and recreation works; and
• Armories, post offices, and other federal properties.

NEGOTIATION OR CONFRONTATION: IT’S CANADA’S CHOICE

Oka, Ipperwash, Caledonia. Blockades, masked warriors, police snipers. Why?

Canada’s failure to address and resolve the legitimate claims of First Nations.

Imagine your new neighbour comes into your backyard and fences off half of it. Then he sells it to someone down the street. This new neighbour tells you he got a good deal but he won’t say how much he got. Then, he says that he’ll take care of the cash – on your behalf, of course.

Maybe he even spends a little on himself. You complain. He denies he did anything wrong.

What would you do? Go to the proper authorities? Turns out that the authorities and their agencies work for him.

Sue him? He tells you that none of the lawyers can work for you – he’s got every one in town working for him. When he finally lets a lawyer work for you – it turns out that he can afford five of them for every one you can afford.

Finally he says: Okay, I’m willing to discuss it. But first you have to prove I did something wrong. Oh, and I get to be the judge of whether you’ve proved it. And, if you do prove it, I get to set the rules about how we’ll negotiate. I’ll decide when we’ve reached a deal and I’ll even get to determine how I’ll pay the settlement out to you. Oh, and I hope you’re in no rush because this is going to take about twenty or thirty years to settle.

Sounds crazy?

Welcome to the world of Indian Specific Claims. Specific Claims arose when Canada and its agents failed to live up to Canada’s responsibilities in connection with First Nations’ lands, monies and assets. In some cases Canada didn’t give them the land they were promised in the treaties. In some cases, they got the land only to have it taken away again – in a way that violated Canada’s own rules. In other cases, federal employees actually stole Indian land, money or other assets.

Until the 1950s, First Nations were prohibited by law from hiring lawyers to pursue these claims – many of which date back 70, 100 or 200 years. Since then impoverished Indian communities have had to fight the federal government in court or else persuade it to acknowledge the claim and negotiate a settlement. Currently, everything is done on Canada’s terms and the government is both defendant and judge.

With few resources allocated to find solutions, it can often take twenty or more years from the time a First Nation comes forward with a claim to finally reaching a settlement.

Despite the amazing hurdles, almost 300 claims have been settled. In every case where they have been settled, it has meant an immediate improvement in the lives of First Nations people. It has also strengthened relations between Canada and those First Nations and between those First Nations and the communities that surround them. Settling outstanding claims is not only the just thing to do, it is the smart thing.

Close to 900 claims sit in the backlog. Things are getting worse rather than better. First Nations have been patient – incredibly patient – but their patience is wearing thin.

The choice is clear. Justice, respect, honour. Oka, Ipperwash, Caledonia.

Canada is a great nation in the world but Canada will only achieve true greatness when it has fulfilled its legal obligations to First Nations.

IMPLEMENTING THE GLOBAL SOLUTION PRINCIPLES

Decommissioning the Nanticoke coal generating electrical plant had a positive environmental impact for the Six Nations Community. As a replacement alternative, Six Nations sought to be involved in the “green energy” initiatives introduced by the Province of Ontario. The legal duty to consult and accommodate Six Nations for such developments to proceed in our Treaty Lands brought forward opportunities to implement our Global Solution Principles of sharing in revenues from these developments, producing the following partnerships and fiscal arrangements:

In addition to the above, Union Gas has agreed to fund SN Natural Gas for the expansion of the current Gas System.

Based on the feedback gathered through the “We Gather Our Voices” project, Six Nations Elected Council has committed to creating a Development Corporation with an Economic Development Trust. The Economic Development Trust will serve as the vehicle for distributing the total revenue generated over 20 years with the above projects. All Post Secondary Education funds will be administered directly through Grand River Post Secondary Education Office or as described in the Definitive Agreement.

These agreements do not derogate from or abrogate the aboriginal or treaty rights of Six Nations or any of its members. They are also without prejudice to and do not intend to abrogate or derogate from any and all claims that the Six Nations of the Grand River have against Her Majesty the Queen in Right of Canada; Her Majesty the Queen in Right of Ontario; and the Government of Canada or the Government of Ontario. Including without limitation to the litigation commenced in the Ontario Superior Court of Justice between Six Nations of the Grand River Band as plaintiff and the Attorney General of Canada and Her Majesty the Queen in Right of Ontario as defendants; bearing Court File No. 406/95 issued out of Brantford, Ontario.
