(1) A person who is party to any contravention of any provision of this Act or its regulations, or any order made under this Act or its regulations, is guilty of an offence punishable by monetary penalty in accordance with section 80 in addition to any other enforcement action that the Commission may take pursuant to this Act or its regulations.
- (2) The Commission may enforce subsection 73(1), including by obtaining an injunction:
- (a) against a continuing breach of this Act or its regulations; or

73. (1) No proceeding or prosecution under the Cannabis Act, S.C. 2018, c. 16 (Canada), the Cannabis Licence Act, 2018, S.O. 2018, c. 12 (Ontario), or the Cannabis Control Act, 2017, S.O. 2017, c. 26 (Ontario), or under any regulations made thereunder, shall be commenced unless reasonable and probable grounds exist to believe that a provision of this Act or its regulations has been contravened and the criteria under section 75 have been met.

Charges

- (2) Where reasonable and probable grounds exist to believe that a provision of this Act or its regulations has been contravened, and subject only to the exceptions created by sections 75 and 76(4), an inspector shall lay all applicable charges, and thereby commence a proceeding under this Act.

Proceeding under this Act

- (3) For the purposes of this Part, a proceeding under this Act pursuant to a charge laid under subsection

(2) shall be referred to as an “SNCC hearing”.

Concurrency of jurisdiction

74. (1) Where reasonable and probable grounds exist to believe that a provision of this Act or its regulations has been contravened, the Six Nations Police may, in their discretion, in addition to laying a charge under this Act, also lay charges under each or any of the following statutes and/or regulations, as may be applicable: the Criminal Code of Canada, R.S.C., 1985, c.  - (b) if referred for restorative justice:
 - (i) the charged person is prepared to be accountable and accept responsibility for the alleged contravention; and

- (ii) the Commission determines, in its sole and absolute discretion, that a referral would be beneficial to the charged person, and that the circumstances of the conduct and charged person, and the needs of the community, warrant a referral to restorative justice; and
- (c) the alleged contravention is not also the subject of prosecution under the Criminal Code of Canada, R.S.C., 1985, c. C-46 (Canada); the Cannabis Act, S.C. 2018, c. 16 (Canada); the Cannabis Licence Act, 2018, S.O. 2018, c. 12 (Ontario); or the Cannabis Control Act, 2017, S.O. 2017, c. 26 (Ontario); or under any regulations made thereunder, in accordance with section 75.

Commission hearing and decision

- (5) At an SNCC hearing, if the charge is not referred to Six Nations Justice in accordance with subsection (4), the Commission shall, after providing the inspector presenting the charge and the charged party with meaningful opportunities to be heard, either find the charged party liable or not liable for the offence.

Penalty

 - (b) the director or officer is a senior officer responsible for the aspect of the organization's activities that is relevant to the offence and he or she departs markedly from the standard of care that, in the circumstances, could reasonably be expected of him or her to prevent a representative of the organization from being a party to the offence.

Probation

80. (1) Notwithstanding any fine that the Commission may impose in accordance with section 76(6), the Commission may also, on liability being found, issue an order:

Reconsideration – new facts

- (2) Persons whom the Commission finds liable for contravening the Act and/or its regulations may apply to the Commission for a reconsideration of its finding where:
 - (a) new facts become available that were not capable of discovery with the exercise of due diligence at the time of the SNCC hearing; and

Limitation

- (3) Neither the inspector who presented the charge nor a person whom the Commission finds liable for contravening the Act and/or its regulations may bring an application for reconsideration under subsections (1) or (2) after 90 days after the date on which the Commission made a finding under section 76 of this Act.
